Grace George and a very strong company pleased a large crowd at the Barre opera house last evening, pleased them so much that Miss George and her leading support were given several curtain calls. Miss George's rippling merriment was infectious, her mannerisms were captivating and her personal appearance was most attractive, while the work of the others, particularly Herbert Percy, as the man of the house in "Sauce for the Goose," Keith Wakeman as "Mrs. Alloway," the would-be affinity of the man of the house, and Frederick Perry as the gay, young blade who furnished much of the domestic plot, supposedly the "sauce" of the play, was so good that they carried the audience in spite of the mediocrity of the piece itself. "Sauce for the Goose" seems more fitted for amateur attempts than for professional actors, and the company of eight last night certainly got out all there was in the piece.

In city court Galfetti entered a plea of not guilty and the case was continued until next Monday. Grand Juror Davis stated to the court that he had learned that Galfetti had been at his work all day Monday so that he could not have been lying in wait for Molla and he wanted to set the case off a week so that he could look up the facts of the trouble.

For a cheaper Silk we have a 27-inch Jap Silk, good weight, all silk at 50c per yard.

White Lamsdown is half silk, the other half fine wool, a very satisfactory wearing cloth, 40 inches wide at $1.25 per yard.

White All Wool Batiste or Nuns Veiling for 50c, trimmed with silk lace, makes up to look like more expensive goods.

For the young ladies school suit White Serge is durable and just now one of the best styles, being better than the white with black stripes. We have these suits ready to wear or the cloth to make, at from 59c to $1.50 per yard.

Long Gloves are the kind worn. Those as soon as the warm weather comes will sell best in silk, especially when to be used with light weight dresses. With white silk messaline the long White Kid Glove is a little the better style.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Virginia Harned in "The Woman He Married" Next Monday Evening.

The distinguished American actress, who is touring this season, presenting her latest successful play, "The Woman He Married," is announced for the Barre opera house next Monday night, May 1.

No better, finer play could have been secured than "The Woman He Married," by Herbert Bashford, for Miss Harned to display her splendid talents that have made her recognized by the theatre-going public as America's leading actress. Several of this country's greatest managers tried hard to secure the play from Mr. Bashford, but he had only one actress in view and he offered it to Miss Harned. "The Woman He Married" is described as a play of to-day and critics who have been fortunate enough to witness it have been universal in their praise of both the play and its production. No money has been spared to make this production massive. The scenic effects are described as really wonderful. One car is used to carry the furniture alone. When you have witnessed this powerful play, you will say that we have not spoken too highly of it and of America's leading star, Miss Harned.
